

EMPLOYABILITY-DRIVEN CURRICULUM

Among the global challenges critical for transformation, Africa's sustainable development is one of the most crucial. At Honoris United Universities, we recognize the pressing need for individuals to be equipped with the knowledge and skills to address the complex obstacles facing the continent's growth. By working inclusively and ethically, graduates today will become the responsible citizens the continent needs for a prosperous future.

Honoris proudly introduces a new groundbreaking online course dedicated to the most pressing themes identified by top employers on the continent, combining contextual knowledge on the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), Work Ethics, and Gender Equity.

Revolutionizing how students learn online through the power of adaptive learning, learners receive a personalized and dynamic curriculum that adjusts to their progress and pace, ensuring a more comprehensive understanding of the learning objectives and outcomes of the course.

The themes of the certificate were curated based in consultation with the Honoris network of employer partners.
